FLOOD AVERTED BY COLD SPELL

River Reaches 30.7 Foot Stage at Lock No. 4 Then Starts to Recede

NAVIGATION IS SUSPENDED

Possibilities of a disastrous flood of the Monongahela river have been averted by a drop in temperature and a discontinuance of rains and thaws in the upper river basins. At Lock 4 the highest stage of water was 30.7 feet this morning, this being within five-tenths of an inch of the flood stage under the new system of gauges at the lock. So far as could be learned no damage was done along the Monongahela.

Navigation was suspended early Wednesday morning and it may be resumed tomorrow morning before it is resumed again. The river started to fall slowly, having receded a bare three-tenths of an inch by noon.

Trainmen faced danger along the lines paralleling the river as the result of thorough soaking of roadbeds and slopes bordering on tracks. Several slides have occurred.

PREPAREDNESS DRAMA IS GIVEN FIRST TIME

"The Battle Cry of Peace" Has First Presentation Today in Charleroi at Coyle Theatre—Is Educational Masterpiece.

Today witnesses the first presentation in Charleroi of the famous drama of preparedness, "The Battle Cry of Peace," at the Coyle theatre. Two shows are to be given today, the first having started at 1:30 o'clock. The film is produced by the Vitagraph company, with J. Stuart Blackton as director and a clever cast with Charles Richman at the head.

Full orchestral accompaniment by Nirella's orchestra is being furnished here, adding tremendously to the strong points. Tonight the regularly announced shows will begin at 7:30 and 9:30. Crowds are expected but Manager Coyle is making arrangements to care for them in the best possible shape. Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock a special matinee will be given for school children the grades to be dismissed for permitting them to see this educational masterpiece. Tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 and 3:30 shows will be given and in the evening at the regular time, 7:30 and 9:30.

WALTER VAUGHAN MAKES BIG HIT AT CALIFORNIA

Walter Vaughan of Fayette City, who is gaining a wide reputation as a tenor soloist, assisted by Miss Rutha Easter, pianist and Miss Rutha Barnum, reader, gave a great concert at California Normal Wednesday evening. He sang fine voice and furnished some of the finest musical entertainment to which California has ever listened.

Bruce Cross Dead. Word has been received here that Bruce Cross a former Charleroi resident had died in Ohio. His body is being brought to California for burial. No details are known.

EYE GLASS BELT ON THE PENNSYLVANIA SYSTEM

Eye glasses are among the commonest articles of a personal nature that people lose while traveling.

Last year there were found on the trains and in the stations of the Pennsylvania railroad on the lines east of Pittsburgh alone a total of 865 pairs of eye glasses. A large number of these were returned to or claimed by their owners. In many instances the owners were successfully traced through the names of opticians and prescription number on the cases.

It is a rather curious fact that of the 865 pairs, 666 pairs or more than three-quarters, were found between New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, or on the lines immediately tributary to those cities. This seems to be the "eye glass belt." Only 199 pairs were found on all the rest of the lines east of Pittsburgh.

LITTLE DAMAGE AT BAKE SHOP FIRE

Fire Department Called Out Few Minutes After Midnight by Alarm

QUICKLY EXTINGUISH FLAMES

The fire department was called out this morning at 12:15 o'clock by the report of a fire at the bake shop of Carl Ritter on Fallowfield avenue directly opposite the postoffice. Upon response it was discovered that the roof over the bake oven was in flames from the operation of the oven. The roof was burned partly away, but the damage will be slight. Firemen through the use of extinguishers had no difficulty in controlling the blaze.

REACH 1916 BASEBALL GUIDE IS PUBLISHED FOR THIS YEAR

The 1916 Reach American League Guide—the official handbook of the great major league presided over by famous Ben Johnson—has just made its ever welcome appearance, thus ushering in one more baseball season; a function which it has fulfilled each spring for 34 consecutive years. This long continuation of publication alone has served to make the Reach Guide the standard annual publication of the baseball world without considering the merits of the contents of the book, which is edited by Francis C. Richter, the veteran baseball writer and authority. This year the Guide has been rearranged, being grouped into four distinct sections a method that makes it especially easy to search out matters of reference and record. Probably of equal importance with the new arrangement is the article dealing with the settlement of the baseball war and the return of the sport to its old stable basis.

Water Covers Canonsburg Streets. Charliers Creek was higher Wednesday than at any time since the memorable flood of September 2, 1912, when it destroyed property valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars at Canonsburg. South Central avenue in that borough was covered several feet. The plants of the Standard Tin Plate Company and the Fort Pitt Bridge works escaped with little damage.

COUNCIL TAKES UP TWO MATTERS

ENGINEER'S HELPER NAMED

Council held a brief adjourned session Wednesday evening to finally consider an ordinance and to appoint a helper for the borough engineer.

The ordinance was one taken up for the first time Tuesday evening, granting Carey E. Piper of Piper's Pharmacy the right to build a show window 14 inches over the sidewalk. The case is to be 18 inches from the ground and solidly braced according to the ordinance which was passed by council and made ready for the signature of the burgess.

Frank Buchanan was named as helper to Borough Engineer T. J. Allen. He will take up his work at once. This spring the engineering department will be extremely busy giving attention to the paving of streets for which contracts will probably be awarded the first part of April.

ONE CASE ON TRIAL IN COURT; IT TO BE LAST

The February term of common pleas court with the exception of one case that is now in trial is at a close. Jurors were finally excused Wednesday. There were 22 cases listed for trial this week, but on account of settlements and continuances there remained only a few to be tried. There were 85 suits on the trial list just heard but of this number many cases were disposed of before they were called before a jury.

On trial before Judge Irwin is the suit of J. V. Stevenson of Smith township against F. W. Dossy, who formerly lived on an adjoining farm. The claim is for damages for alleged false representations made by the defendant in the sale of 12 cattle to the plaintiff a number of cows, heifer and a bull. The defendant formerly conducted a dairy business and the cattle bought by the plaintiff were purchased at a sale held by the defendant. The plaintiff had, he testified, acquired as to the condition of the cattle and was informed they were thoroughbred Jerseys and sound in every respect.

The plaintiff claims he discovered after he had taken the cattle and had paid for them that they had an infectious disease, which spread among other cattle of the plaintiff. The latter claims also that the stables and sheds became infected. Damages are asked for the loss sustained from the cattle and other losses the plaintiff suffered. He paid on an average of $86 a piece for the cattle.

THEFT OF MONEY ORDERS REPORTED

WATCHING FOR THEIR USE

Postoffice authorities at Washington D. C. have sent out notification of the theft of a large number of money order blanks from a postal substitution at Wilkes-Barre, the blanks running from 28536 to 286000. This is one of the largest thefts reported at any point in the country since stealing of blanks came in vogue and is supposed to be the work of a professional thief.

The usual plan of cashing the money order blanks with merchants will it is supposed be followed. Last year the game was successfully worked in Charleroi with blanks stolen from a New Jersey office.

DONORA STARTS TO ABSORB CULTURE; FORGETS MEETING

Signing up for Lecture Course Easy But Making Selection is More Difficult.

Within the last few days Donora determined to absorb culture by the lecture bureau route and in the first enthusiasm signed up for a lot of attractions. The guarantors were asked to meet Tuesday night to make the selection of entertainers and lecturers. Prof. Edgar Reed, superintendent of schools called the meeting. He was present and so was the (Coit-Nelson Lyceum Bureau representative—that was all. Superintendent Reed declined to assume the responsibility of selecting a course so the representative did it for him and Donora, and now all Donora has to do is to attend the entertainments and arrange the financing of the same.

"THE NIGHT COMETH" SUBJECT OF WEDNESDAY EVENING SERMON

Wednesday evening Rev. Ben S. Johnson, who is conducting revival meetings at the First Christian church took as his subject "The Night Cometh." One of the most inspiring services of the meeting was held Wednesday. Prior to the preaching a song service was conducted by Rev. E. N. Duty. The Junior choir sang a special number and a ladies quartet composed of Misses Letitia Morris, Isabella Dorbritz, Eleanor Ailes and Edna Reilly sang. The subject of the sermon this evening will be "The Fatality of Neglect."

BEALLSVILLE MAN IS SUDDENLY STRICKEN

James P. Ebert, for many years a prominent merchant and a former member of the Beallsville Board of Education, and one of the best known citizens of the county is at his home in a serious condition, as the result of a sudden attack of illness in his home at Beallsville on Tuesday. Mr. Ebert had not been feeling well during the day and was suddenly attacked. He fell upon the floor of his home. Members of the family rushed to him and found him in a serious condition.

MINERS LIVES IMPERILED WHEN RESERVOIR OVERFLOWS

One hundred and ninety-five miners' lives were endangered Wednesday when the huge reservoir at the Royal works of the W. J. Rainey Coke company at Brownsville covering 10 acres, overflowed and threatened for a time to flood the workings of the mine.

Prompt action of residents of the town probably saved them. Superintendent R. P. Mullen and Foreman E. L. Halbert, notified that the reservoir had overflowed, hurriedly sent couriers through the mine, warning the miners to leave at once. When they were out of the mine the men, with picks and shovels, turned the course of the flooded reservoir by digging a huge ditch, sending the water in another direction from the mine.

A violent rainstorm caused considerable damage in the Brownsville vicinity, small creeks overflowing and cellars being flooded. The West Penn Traction Company's line between Brownsville and Uniontown was put out of commission.

RIVER TRADE TO BE MERE MEMORY

Coal Shipments to Southern Markets Not as Numerous as Formerly

ROMANCE OF TRADE PASSING

According to the Donora Herald, the river coal trade will soon be a thing of history with all the glory and romance associated with the river trade in past years gone. The Herald says:

"Conditions with respect to the coal trade in this section of Pennsylvania, are rapidly changing. It seems but a few years ago since the Monongahela valley mines furnished practically all the coal used in the various towns along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers; at one time the Cumberland and Tennessee river towns were supplied from this district, and even from the mines which were located in the neighboring town of Webster thousands of bushels of black diamonds were shipped annually to Nashville, St. Louis and other points in the south and west which were always in the market for coal produced here and at other points along the river.

"In this day there has been a radical change. Due, possibly, to the fact that a lower wage rate prevails in West Virginia and that other conditions may not be so burdensome, big coal companies are looking to that district for a supply of the bitumen with which to supply their trade in the lower river countries.

"A number of mines along the Monongahela river have been down all winter, and even at this time there is no assurance as to when they will resume operations. The trade which they once supplied has been transferred to other districts, and the mining activity which was once so prevalent here seems to have taken wings and flown away. Empty boats and barges which have been moored along the river at different docks are now being towed down the Ohio river to the Kanawha and thence to mines along that stream for loading and thence to markets which the Pittsburgh (Continued on page four.)

HOLDS UP BOY; IS ARRESTED

Unknown Man Now in Lockup Awaiting Hearing For Highwayman Act

BOY HERE TO SELL EGGS

Robbing a boy of $2, his earnings from the sale of eggs, may prove dear for a man of unknown name now in the lockup at Donora awaiting a hearing.

This morning John Rhoda aged 13 of Merchant Place near Ellsworth came to Charleroi to sell eggs. He disposed of a lot here and at North Charleroi and near noon was waiting a car at the Monessen-Charleroi bridge when a man of hobo appearance approached asking the lad if he would help stretch some wire. The boy accompanied him to the first bridge where a bluff was gone through at stretching wire. Then the man pulled a knife and demanded all the money the lad had. He secured the boy's earnings and left, threatening the lad with death if he told anyone. The boy went to the lock office at Lock No. 4 and told workmen. Joe Connell and others started down the railroad on the hunt of the man, and were joined by A. J. Weight and a party of railroaders. They caught up with him at the West Columbia blast furnaces and took him in charge.

On to Donora the party went, being met at the borough line by the Donora police who had in the meantime been notified. They took the man and placed him in the lockup. The Rhoda boy remained in Donora until a hearing should be given the man. When arrested the man had on his person $1.36, but admitted he had put 75 cents away.

SIDEWALK TEST OF RUG AT PFLEGHARDT STORE

An unusual demonstration is taking place at Pfelehardt's Furniture store during the week of March 2 to April 1, when a Whittall Angli Persian rug will be left on the sidewalk in front of the store for people to walk on. A price will be given to the person guessing the nearest number of people passing over the rug during the week. A girl will make the actual count.

After the "sidewalk test" to show the durability of the rug is complete it will be sent back to the factory washed and then returned to Pfelehardt store, put in the large show window for one week, and the sold to the highest bidder. Bids will be sealed and dropped in a box the carpet department of the store. Today and tomorrow the rug will be shown in the store window and the on Saturday be placed on the sidewalk.

Suit For Counsel Fees. Duncan, Chalfant & Warne for use of T. Jeff Duncan, now for use of Jeff Duncan and O. S. Chalfant, have filed a suit against John Gunther, recover the sum of $450 alleged to be counsel fees. They represented defendant in a proceeding brought the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., when the railroad appropriated certain lands in Elco belonging to the defendant.

Congressman Temple hopes Villa is caught soon, but considers that the Carranza troops are the proper ones to effect the capture. His idea is that if the United States troops apprehend the daring raider and attempt the administration of justice, Carranza's recognized government may from a feeling of jealousy or from some other reasons cause complications to arise which may only further embarrass those active in peace negotiations. If the United States can, it should keep out of Mexican strife. There is a sort of romantic feeling about the Villa chase and an instinctive desire to see the United States troops accomplish what the Mexican soldiers have been unable to accomplish. But from a common sense point of view, it would indeed be better for Carranza's men to get the credit and the glory which will go along with the capture of this most sensational figure of modern times.

The preparedness movement has only recently begun in the United States and not a great deal definite has been accomplished, except in arousing sentiment favorable to added defenses. That has been done to a queen's taste. About $9 out of every 100 men or women in the nation today will tell you they are for preparedness and more, will tell you why. This is because of the thoroughness with which the movement has been carried on. For instance moving pictures have shown where there is weakness; have drawn attention to the ease with which a foreign invader well prepared, could gain a foothold. "The Battle Cry of Peace," that thrilling spectacle being shown at a local theatre is evidence. It carries with it a message to which we as a people should hearken.

COURT RULES BOROUGHS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR POLICEMEN

Upon motion of counsel for the borough Judge Irwin granted a compulsory non-suit Wednesday afternoon in the suit of Harvey G. Kerns against the borough of Washington. The court ruled the borough, a corporation, was not liable for the actions of its burgess or policemen.

Mr. Kerns claimed damages for alleged false arrest and imprisonment. He was taken into custody by the Washington police on the evening of June 12, 1915, following complaints that the plaintiff was causing a disturbance. Kerns at the time, was conducting religious services at that corner and his exhorting became so loud at it annoyed business places thereabouts. He was taken before Burgess A. P. Morgan, who committed him to jail for 30 days. He served only about five days. It was in evidence that Mr. Kerns raised considerable disturbance at the police station following his arrest.

REPORT COMPLETED BY AUDITORS OF DONORA

Down River Steel Town $2,000 Ahead In Balance at End of Year. But Has Bonded Indebtedness Amounting to $200,000.

The report of the borough auditors of the borough of Donora has been filed and published, showing the receipts for the year from all sources of $83,065.96. After disbursements were made of a similar amount $2,000 remained in the treasury.

The total resources of the borough are $216,932.85, this amount being represented in delinquent and other taxes, borough real estate, paving and sewers on the various streets and alleys of the borough.

The bonded indebtedness of the borough is about $200,000, or four percent of the 5,000,000 valuation as represented by the property within its corporate limits. This leaves a margin of three per cent or $150,000 for additional bonds, should it be found necessary to use that credit.

RIVER TRADE

Coal company supplies below.

"It is true there is considerable activity at a number of mines within the Pittsburgh district, but the product is largely consumed at home. In fact, local demands have become so great that within a few years we may see the day which has been predicted will come—that not a pound of coal will be shipped out of the Pittsburgh district, because it will all be needed to take care of our own industries. And from the continual additions and expansions that are being made it is not anticipating too much to say that the day is not far distant.

"So far as the glory of the river is concerned, from a shipping point of view, originating cargoes which might be shipped to far distant southern points, that day seems to have passed away. Henceforth, it will live only in the memories of those who were familiar with the conditions and the romance which attached to those days when the spring and fall runs were the features and a "coal boat stage" meant increased activity in every river community."

BERRYMAN'S OPENING ATTRACTIVE FEATURE

Millinery. Suitings. Dress Goods and Notions All Arranged to Queens Taste—Opening to Continue Through Three Days.

In all their daintiness and freshness of pattern and design spring fashions are having their first showing at Berryman's store today at the first day of the annual spring opening. Friday and Saturday the display will continue.

Every department is arranged to a queen's taste and the interior presents a spic and span appearance, that embellished with neat decorative pieces carrying out the color scheme of pink and green makes the establishment a decidedly attractive place to visit.

In the suit and millinery departments interest of womankind centers. There are being shown what is the latest in millinery and suitings. The Lisere hats are popular this year, but then so are the turbans, arranged with a high crown effect and the sailors with their broad flat surfaces. Colors are subdued and conservative, and there is more reason to this than fad. Dyes are not numerous, hence the bright designs are conspicuous by their absence. Miss Dale Goble is the milliner in charge of the millinery department this year and she has prepared millinery of an exclusive nature. Suitings show a belted effect and a full back. Skirts are full and short, with a hoop effect. Silk dresses are to be found in quantity at Berryman's with the shortness of skirts being a feature. From 10 to 12 inches above ground is considered eminently proper and stylish.

In the art and dry goods departments, the dress goods and silks, with other offerings are displayed to the best advantage. The notions department is arranged into a decidedly attractive place, with all the offerings there being tastefully assembled with due regard to harmony in color. The men's department has been decorated along with the rest, providing for the fastidious male dresser ample opportunity to observe what is what in men's garb.

Among the attractive and noticeable features in the decorative effects is the tasteful arrangements of the windows, which are trimmed in an artistic manner. This afternoon souvenirs are being given to women visitors.

PROUD of your fine furniture, aren't you? And you want to keep it shiny new, unmarred by dust or spots or finger marks. The simple, sure way is to go over each piece every week or so with a soft cloth dampened with Atlantic Rayolight Oil. That'll keep it just as good as new.

You'll bless the day you commenced using Atlantic Rayolight Oil. You'll find it of the greatest help in keeping things spick and span.

Many a housewife has told us how she made wash day lots easier and the clothes much whiter by using a quarter of a cup of Atlantic Rayolight Oil with the water in the wash boiler. Others have written us that for cutting grease nothing equals Atlantic Rayolight Oil, that it is excellent for cleaning hair brushes and combs, and that when sprinkled along cracks and crevices, ants and bugs disappear.

Atlantic Rayolight Oil has lightened the work in hundreds of homes. But be sure you get Atlantic Rayolight Oil, for ordinary, unnamed kerosene is liable to disappoint you.

Just as Atlantic Rayolight Oil is best for household purposes, it excels for lighting and heating. Carefully refined until every impurity has been removed, it burns without smoking-up chimneys, without charring wicks, without a jot of smell. But it burns slowly, shedding a soft, white, flickerless light. When used in heater and stove, it radiates an intense and economical heat.

Buy it from the dealer who displays this sign

and ask for it by name

What's also important is that it costs no more than ordinary impure, unreliable kerosene.

RELATIVES IN LAW.
A Little Advice That May Help to Make Things Pleasant.
If I were giving counsel to the husband and wife who would make each other happy and hold each other's love I would suggest that neither call the attention of the other to the disagreeable qualities of the family of either.
"My husband loves my people as if they were his own," a wife told me.
"It makes me so happy."
I doubt if he did love her people very dearly, but he overlooked those characteristics which a more selfish man would have resented. If it was what a schoolboy would call a "bluff" it was a gloriously unselfish one.
Most of us can stand the tempers and idiosyncrasies of our own when we alone have to bear them. It is when we see them through the eyes of a third person that they become unendurable. That is perhaps one reason why so few roofs are large enough to cover two families.
If each "in-law" exercised toward the members of the household into which he or she married the same pardoning love that is exercised toward one's own the aspersions cast upon the mother-in-law would die a natural death because they would have nothing on which to feed.—Virginia Terhune Van de Water in Mother's Magazine.
WHIRLIGIG BEETLES.
These Four Eyed, Six Legged Creatures Are Expert Swimmers.
More than likely you have watched him skating in "figures 8's" and all sorts of elaborate designs in quiet pools along a stream or on the edge of a lake. He will turn this way and that, describing one graceful curve after another, and then dart off in a straight line when he's frightened. He's speedy, as well as graceful. He's the whirligig beetle.
He has six legs, two longer ones in front and two pairs of short, flat paddles behind. These paddles make him an expert swimmer. His front legs, stretched out, look like arms.
Nature was also generous in giving him two pairs of eyes. With one pair he looks at objects on top of the water, and with the other pair he keeps watch for prey just below.
There are something less than 200 species of whirligig beetles and they're scattered in all parts of the world. All summer you'll see their shiny bodies skating in spiral tracks and in curves on the surface of pools and sluggish streams.—Philadelphia North American, D. No. 2.

THE WHIP IN RIFLE BARRELS.
It Is Caused by the Pressure of Modern High Power Powder.
The use of high power powder in rifles has given rise to a phenomenon which did not exist in black powder days. This is known as "whip" and is due to the pressure and vibration set up by the powder. It is constant with given loads and is always in the same direction.
Sights are affected by the manufacture to compensate for this whip in proportion to the powder charge used in firing auxiliary cartridges it will of course be true that the rifle shoots of course. As a matter of fact the bullet from the auxiliary is traveling in a true line with the bore, and it is the sights that are wrong. The lighter charge of the auxiliary does not produce the usual whip, with the result that the line in prolongation of the bore of the rifle along which the bullet travels is not the line given by the adjustment of the sights.
Two other rifle terms that must not be confused are up-settance and keyholing. Keyholing is the tendency of the bullet to turn over in flight, while up-settance is the slight shortening of the major axis of the bullet due to the force of the charge. It was peculiar to black powder fired behind lead bullets and does not exist to any appreciable extent in metal jacketed bullets with smokeless powder. In the latter case the charge burns more slowly and the jacket stiffens the bullet against the sudden blow from behind.—Outing.
ORIGIN OF THE PERISCOPE.
Speaking of the origin of the periscope, the following extract from the writings of the well known inventor of "Pepper's Ghost" gives the credit to the clerical profession. Pepper wrote soon after the Crimean war:
"During the siege of Sebastopol numbers of our best artillerymen were continually picked off by the enemy's rifles as well as by cannon shot, and in order to put a stop to the foolishness and ineffectiveness of the men, a very ingenious contrivance was invented by the Rev. William Taylor, the coadjutor of Mr. Denison in constructing the first 'Big Ben' bell. It was called the reflecting spyglass, and by its simple construction rendered the exposure of the sailors and soldiers who would look over the parapet or other parts of the works to observe the effect of their shots perfectly unnecessary, while another form was constructed for the purpose of allowing the gunner to 'lay' or aim his gun in safety.
"The instruments were so constructed that Lord Panmure, who was so convinced of the importance of the invention that he immediately commissioned the Rev. William Taylor to have a number of these telescopes constructed, and if the siege had not terminated just at the time the invention was to have been used no doubt a great saving of the valuable lives of the skilled artillerymen would have been effected."—London Express.
Gam's Dry Humor.
When the gallant Welsh captain, David Gam, was sent forward by Henry V. to reconnoiter the French army before the battle of Agincourt he found that the enemy outnumbered the English by about five to one. His report to the king is historic:
"There are enough to be killed, enough to be taken prisoners and enough to run away."
This quaint forecast of the result of the battle at once spread through the camp, and doubtless every yeoman archer of the valiant company felt an inch taller. We know that it was almost literally justified by the event. Poor Gam's dry humor was equaled by his courage. He was killed while in the act of saving the life of his prince.—London Standard.
Distilled Water.
Distilled water after having been exposed to the air is one of the most salubrious of drinks. Its daily use in measured quantities is helpful in cases of dyspepsia and greatly assists the general functions of the body. Every large steamer carries a water distilling apparatus by which sea water is made fresh. In the days before steamers primitive distilling apparatus was used on warships and vessels carrying passengers.
Well Fitted.
"Yes, grandma, I am to be married next month."
"But, my dear," said grandma earnestly, "you are very young. Do you feel that you are fitted for married life?"
"I am being fitted now, grandma," explained the prospective bride sweetly. "Seven gowns!"—Kansas City Journal.
More Than the Average.
Mrs. Wagon—How much sleep do I need, doctor? Doctor—Well, the average person needs about seven hours. Mrs. Wagon—Then I shall take about fourteen. I consider I am much above the average.—Judge.
A Plain Heroine.
"This is refreshing. The author says his heroine isn't beautiful."
"It will be refreshing to see the pictures of the heroine come up to the print."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
Many Sided Woman.
Man thinks he is going to solve the mystery known as woman after he is married. And then the plot thickens.—Toledo Blade.
It is bad to work listlessly; it is worse to loiter instead of beginning to work at all.

CHANGED HIS MIND.
Andrew Lang Didn't Like Stevenson When They First Met.
Andrew Lang was the unyielding enemy of everything that savored of decadence. He particularly disliked the affected young aesthetes of the 1890's. And although he came, as the world knows, to be the devoted friend of Robert Louis Stevenson, his first impressions of him were most unfavorable, for he mistook him for an aesthete of the aesthetes.
In his book "On the Trail of Stevenson" Clayton Hamilton gives a record of Andrew Lang's account of his first glimpse of Stevenson. Andrew Lang, it seems, part of the conversational economy associated chiefly with the name of the late Alfred Jarry, Esq., Mr. Lang said and Mr. Hamilton noted it down immediately after in the London Underground these things:
"Mentone promenade. Saw him coming. Didn't like him. Long cape. Long hair. Queer hat. — queer. Hands—white, long, beautiful. Didn't like the cape. Didn't like the hair. Looked like a — aesthete. Never liked aesthetes. Can't stand them. Talked well. Saw that. Still seemed another aesthete. Couldn't discovered. Didn't like him. Didn't like him at all. * * * Later on, yes—but I needn't tell you that. Didn't like him at first. Took time."
THAT FORTY INCH WAIST.
It Means Overeating, Underexercising and Future Poor Health.
"Beware of a forty inch waist line," says a bulletin from the North Carolina state board of health. "Ten to one the man who is five feet eight inches tall and forty inches about the waist will sooner or later have to consult a doctor for malnutrition and kidney trouble and most likely for Bright's or some other serious disease."
"Forty inches about the waist is an abnormal size and condition and shows that he who carries such a burden around with him has an appetite of an abnormal size and proportion. It further shows that something is wrong with his diet or that his energy is reduced to naught. His appetite is either several sizes too big or he 'sits tight' on exercising. Most likely he eats excessively of meats, pastries and heavy foods, which means overworked kidneys and faulty elimination."
"There is usually one, and only one, diagnosis to be made of this class—fat and forty." Their bulkiness, flabbiness and shortness of breath are symptoms baying for their cause 'overfed and underworked.'"
The bulletin concludes with, "Overfeeding contributes more to disease and premature deaths than underfeeding."
Origin of Dollar.
The dollar was originally a Joachimsthaler-gulden-groschen. But that name was too long for general use, and it was cut down to thaler, which was transliterated into the present form. It could not be either a gulden or a groschen, because the gulden had always been minted of gold. It was not a groschen, because that coin was of small value, so the two were combined. The essential part of the name was Joachimsthal, or Joachimsthal, as it is now spelled, the Joachim valley, in Austria, from which the silver was derived for the minting of this large coin. As that great silver mine is located in Bohemia, the original thaler was the Bohemian dollar. Those silver mines have since attained world-wide fame, because they are the source of radium, but the dollar comes closer home to most of us.
Protecting "Bob White."
"Bob white" has received complete protection in a number of states, and in many other instances the season is a short one. Perhaps his defenseless condition in the other states should be recognized as a tribute to his powers of passive resistance. His chief enemies, after all, are not human beings, Poolecats, weasels, foxes, minks and common cats account for a large number of eggs. Coots are especially fond of the latter, and Mr. White has need of all his cunning and powers of endurance if his little brood is to be brought to maturity.—Outing Magazine.
Ceylon's Rice Fields.
It is a surprising condition in Ceylon that rice is not grown in nearly sufficient quantities for home consumption. British India ships considerable quantities to Ceylon. There are vast tracts of irrigable land on the island now uncultivated which would be suitable for paddy fields, but how to bring about the utilization of this rich land remains unsolved.—Argonaut.
The Term "Minister."
The term minister was first applied to churchmen of outlying English parishes in the tenth century. It is now given to a number of the important cathedrals, York, Ripon, Lincoln and Southwell, and to a few large churches and abbeys, such as Sherborne, Winchester and Westminster.—London Globe.
A Handy Dog.
Iva Line—My dog is a regular blacksmith. Ivan Other—How's that? Iva Line—Why, I kicked him the other day and he made a bolt for the door.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
Safety First.
"Isn't it distressing to think of all the poverty in the world?"
"I never do. I confine myself exclusively to thinking of my own."—Life.
It needs more courage to suffer than to die.—Napoleon.

FERTILE ALASKA.
Uncle Sam's Big North Farm and Its Great Possibilities.
Alaska is an unknown world as to its farming resources. I stood on the hills near Fairbanks and looked over a million or so of acres of tillable soil in the Tanana valley. The whole territory is said to have 200,000 acres of possible farm lands, and the Aleutian islands will feed thousands of cattle. Here and there I visited the homesteaders, and I stopped for some time at all of Uncle Sam's experimental farms. Upon one of them the grain which stood in the fields reached to the height of my head, and I saw them growing oats, barley and hay and even alfalfa. I saw potato patches that were yielding four tons to the acre and one potato field, which I was told, had a crop in the ground that would sell for $10,000.
Another surprise was the wild berries that grow all over Alaska and another the wild flowers that make the sides of the hills and the lower slopes of the mountain blazes of color. I found plenty of grass everywhere, and in places the weeds were as high as my head. I saw fat stock on the homesteads of the Tanana valley and visited dairies which were supplying butter and milk to the towns and mining camps near by. The Aleutian islands have a climate milder than Scotland, and on the island of Kodiak, which is as big as Porto Rico, they are now raising Galloway cattle and long woolled sheep.—Cor. of Christian Herald.
LINCOLN'S ARMCHAIR.
It Had One Great Charm Despite Its Forlorn Condition.
There is an interesting story of Abraham Lincoln's quaint humor that turns on his habit of sitting with his long legs thrown over one arm of his chair. That was a habit common among country lawyers sixty or seventy years ago, and Lincoln never got over it.
Very fond of the ease he found in old slippers, he would often meet his official family with them on his feet, and during cabinet meetings he would sometimes sit with one or both legs dangling across the chair.
In the cabinet room was an arm chair which from the constant battering of the presidential legs had grown weak and seemed almost ready to shake to bits. A few days after Lincoln's second inauguration there was a cabinet meeting, and one of the cabinet ministers noticed the old chair and remarked on its rickety appearance.
"It seems to me," he said as he gazed down on the old wreck that stood in the head of the table, "that the United States ought to furnish the president with a better chair than that."
Lincoln screwed up his face into a comical smile.
"What is the matter with that chair?" he asked. "Shabby as it is, there are thousands of men in this country who would be delighted to occupy it."—Youth's Companion.
A Pirate's Model Kingdom.
Pitcairn island is in latitude 25 degrees 3 minutes south and longitude 120 degrees 6 minutes west, or almost exactly south of Vancouver island and just a little south of the tropic of Capricorn. It was first settled in 1790 by nine mutineers from the English ship Bounty and eighteen natives of Tahiti. By the year 1808, when the island was discovered by the English, the population had grown to sixty-six persons who formed a model community under the patriarchal government of John Adams, the only surviving mutineer who had saved a Bible from the ship and was ruling with wisdom and justice his little kingdom of slightly over two miles in length. The island is under the British flag and has a complement of hundred inhabitants.—Christian Herald.
It Wouldn't Work.
Some time since a learned doctor was giving a friend a bit of good advice with regard to mastication.
"No matter what you eat," said the physician, "you should chew each mouthful thirty times. It—"
"That's all right, doctor," smilingly interjected the friend, "but that would not work in my case."
"It wouldn't work?" responded the doctor wonderingly. "Why not?"
"I live in a boarding house," answered the friend, "and my voracious fellow boarders would have the table cleaned while I was eating one mouthful."—Philadelphia Telegraph.
Getting Around It.
"When I was your age I worked fourteen hours a day," said the worried father.
"Well, what of it?" replied the young man who squanders.
"Nothing much; only when you get to be my age that is probably what you will have to do."—Washington Star.
Bathed in Blood.
Not always was a bottle of wine used in christening a ship. In the days of sacrifice to the gods, it is said, it was customary to sacrifice a human being when a boat was being launched and to cut his throat over the prow so that his blood baptized it.—Argonaut.
Relief.
"Is your daughter improving in her music?"
"No; but the next best thing is happening. She's getting tired of it and won't practice."—Washington Star.
Those who eat most are not always the fattest; so those who read much have not always the most knowledge.—Calcott.

HISTORIC BRENNER PASS.
This Alpine Gap Is a Famous Pathway For Great Armies.
The mighty Brenner pass is the Thermopylae of Tyrol. From times immemorial the northern tribes have sought the roadways and culture of the south over this wonderful Alpine saddle. First in fame among all the gaps in the rugged Alpine defenses against the north, and a way which has echoed to the dying cries of warriors and clashing accoutrements of myriad Roman legions and to the noisy disorder of the passage of many armies through more than 2,000 years of restless history.
Innsbruck, the Tyrolean capital, is at the northern terminus of this way, while Bozen, the largely Latinized metropolis of the south, lies 2,000 feet below. Innsbruck is exclusively of the northland, surrounded by plums, apples and birches, and Bozen, like Italy beyond the mountains, is in the midst of a region of vines, figs and olives.
Historic points crowd one another along the Brenner. Guidastones of the time of Caracalla and Septimius Severus have been found buried here. Some of the world's greatest generals have traveled this path, north and south, and here the Tyrolean peasant, Andreas Hofer, the simple, untaught Austrian hero, proved himself greater than one of the last officers of Napoleon.—National Geographic Bulletin.
TIRELESS INSECTS.
Built For the Strenuous Life, They Are Never Weary.
In "Insects, Their Life Histories and Habits," Harold Bastin, the entomologist, says that, contrary to popular belief, spiders are not insects. Insects have six legs, neither more nor less, and another peculiarity of the insect is that it has wings, sometimes two, more often four. Spiders have eight legs and no wings; therefore spiders are not insects.
Insects have no backbones and no skeletons, says Mr. Bastin, but skins with a hard, durable surface called chitin, which makes up a light shell of armor that forms the outside of the body, to the inside of which the muscles are attached.
Insects do not breathe through their mouths, but through holes in their bodies, called spiracles. Insects have neither veins nor arteries. The blood is pumped directly from the chambered heart into the body cavity, where it bathes and nourishes the organs. Insects have wonderful and enviable digestive organs and feed upon and digest almost any substance from which nourishment may be extracted.
Because of the way they are built insects are particularly fitted for the strenuous life, and a tired insect is a thing unknown. They are always busy traveling, buzzing, biting or seeking some work to do.
A "Primitive" Painter.
Henri Rousseau, a man who used to hold a minor government position in France, was for a quarter of a century the joke of artists and art students in Paris. For years in the independent salon he showed daubs which had not the most distant kinship with art. Some of his "famous" pictures were a "Lady on a Sofa in a Jungle," a "Tiger in a Jungle," a "Nigger in a Jungle." He affected jungles, which consisted of innumerable parallel green lines to represent grass; the tiger was a painted wooden toy; the lady looked as if she had come out of Noah's ark. The unfortunate Rousseau went on exhibiting the same sort of work every year, and the painful thing was that he gradually became a celebrity. Sinister humorists told him he had genius, and he took himself quite seriously. "I am a real primitive," he would say. Some practical jokers even went the length of buying his pictures.
Portuguese Burial Custom.
They have an unusual mode of burial in Portugal. Instead of the headstones and monuments of the graveyards of other countries the cemetery of Lisbon shows rows and rows of tiny chapels ranged in long avenues bordered by cypress trees. The Portuguese are reluctant to bury their dead out of sight, and these chapels serve as mortuaries for the coffins, which are placed on the shelves within. Through the iron grills the eye discerns small altars and flowers gleaming through the subdued light of the interiors.—Manchester Courier.
In Its Grateful Shade.
"I have aimed at health and happiness. When confronted with a formidable obstacle," said Sir George Reid on his seventieth birthday, "I have always first tried to knock it over. Failing this, I try to get around it; failing that, to get over it or under it. If I did not then succeed I have been content to lie down in its grateful shade, praising the obstacle as a blessing in disguise."—London Standard.
Unfair Suggestion.
Wife—Do you think Tommy disturbs our neighbor with his drum? Husband—I'm afraid so. The man next door made him a present of a nice new knife today and suggested that Tommy should cut open the drum and spend the money that is inside.—Milwaukee Free Press.
Not the Last.
The Wife—Those trousers of yours look as if they were on their last legs. The Husband—Well, they're not. Johnnie will have to wear 'em after I get through with 'em.—Chicago News.

MONSTER MASONIC OUTING TO BE HELD IN THE COUNTY

Washington Park at County Seat
Selected As Scene For Big Event
Next June.

During the early part of June Washington county will entertain one of the largest Masonic outings that has ever been held in the county. A committee from Pittsburgh representing the Masonic Veterans association was in Washington looking over sites for the annual event and decided on the Washington Fair grounds as the place. Members of the committee extended fraternal greetings to the various lodges of Washington county to participate in this event and it is expected that more than 10,000 persons will be in attendance.

In the 29th district there are eight Masonic lodges, located at Beallsville, Canonsburg, McDonald, Burgettstown, Claysville, Waynesburg and two lodges in Washington. The invitation extended by this committee from the association, however, will be to all master Masons and their families in the county to unite for one big outing. ### NARROW ESCAPE FOR BEALLSVILLE BOY

Death may have been the result of an accident which occurred during a recess period at the primary room of the Beallsville school Tuesday, when Edwin, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Dray of Main street, accidentally bit a small thermometer in two and the enclosed mercury was allowed to flow into his mouth.

Immediately after the accident occurred the boy was rushed to Dr. Milton F. Manning by an uncle D. Luther Eisiminger and medical attention was given him. Nothing has developed so far and it is thought that the lad did not swallow any of the fluid.
